DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant elected, without traverse, the invention of claims 2-11 in a telephone conversation with Examiner LoAn Thanh on May 24th, 2005.

Claims 1 and 12-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Drawings

The drawings were received on Feb. 04, 2005. These drawings are approved.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In line 2 the claim sets forth the limitation "into said proximate a ventricle" and in line 3 "coupling a valve into said catheter." The recitation said proximate a ventricle is not a clear step; it appears that a word is missing between said and proximate. The step of coupling a valve into a catheter also does not make sense. Does applicant mean coupling a valve to a catheter? These recitations are confusing and render the claim indefinite. Correction is required.

Claims 4, 5, 7 & 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Independent claims 4 & 7 set forth the limitation "said catheter has approximately a one hundred eighty degree bend." The recitation is confusing since 180 degrees is a straight line and therefore cannot be a bend. With respect to claims 5 & 8, they are indefinite since they depend from claims 4 & 7 respectively. These recitations are confusing and render the claim indefinite. Correction is required.

Claim 4 recites the limitation "into said cranium" in line four of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Neither claim 4 or the claim it depends from sets for a step involving the cranium.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Børgesen (6,283,934). Børgesen discloses a device and method for treating hydrocephalus via implanting a catheter and valve system into the brain of a patient. The shunt/valve device is implanted between the sinus sagittalis and a ventricle. The device comprises a ventricle catheter and a sinus catheter, connected to one another by a valve. As shown in the figures depicting use or implantation, the sinus catheter has a bend, which is at least ninety degrees and appears to be approximately 7 to 11 centimeters from the opposite end of the catheter. Børgesen discloses that the device may have catheter portions made of silicone rubber, polyethylene, polypropylene, polycarbonate, polysulfone, polystyrene or PVC. Many of which have durometers of approximately 80. With respect to the method of implanting the shunt/valve device, Børgesen teaches that a first part or ventricle portion of the catheter is inserted into a ventricle, a sinus catheter portion is inserted into the sagittal sinus, and the valve is connected between them.

Conclusion

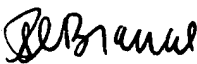

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Watson et al. (5,662,600), Børgesen 2002/0045847 A1 & 2004/0073154 A1 all disclose analogous devices and methods.
